BRENDA MAUNDER LOYOLA'S FIRST DISTAFFER

Loyola College Athletic Director, Ed Enos, on the eve of his departure for a summer of continued doctoral level studies at Boston University, yesterday announced the staff appointment of Mrs. Brenda Mauder as Loyola's first-ever full time Supervisor of Women's Physical Education and Athletics.

Loyola women's sports program conceived only four years ago has made such rapid strides that it was deemed necessary to make the post of Women's Supervisor of Physical Education and Athletics a full time position. Another factor leading to this full time status was that the west end institution once exclusively a male domain will welcome over 1200 co-eds this fall. During the last three years the post had been filled by part time personnel.

Mrs. Mauder, an Ottawa native, is a B.A. grad from Queen's University of Kingston and also received her Bachelor of Physical and Health Education degree from that institution. She brings to the post five years of variegated experience marked with success in administrative and organizational activities in secondary school athletics and summer camps. While in the halls of academe, Mrs. Mauder (née Bradley) was a four letter distaffer, participating intercollegiately for the Queen's co-eds in ice hockey, volleyball, swimming and skiing.

Loyola plays a full schedule on the inter-school level in the Ontario-Quebec Women's Conference of Intercollegiate Athletics. Schools playing in this circuit are University of Montreal, Sir George Williams University, MacDonald College, Carleton University, University of Ottawa, Waterloo-Lutheran University, University of Waterloo, University of Windsor, York University, Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and Laurentian University.

Mrs. Maunder's duties will include promoting, organizing, and administrating the women's Intercollegiate and Intramural programs as well as the co-ed sports clubs. Loyola's intercollegiate teams include ice hockey, basketball and volleyball; intramural and co-ed club offerings encompass volleyball, basketball, modern dance, cheerleading, majorettes and figure skating club.

Her appointment was enthusiastically greeted by Women's Athletic Council President Maureen Newman.
